

Top 10 Ideas for Bringing Energy, Fun and Connectiveness to Your Team

Try out one or more of these energizers during Customer Service Week:

-  1. Invite someone from the C-Suite to come to the front line and take calls!
-  2. Plan a lunch with the president
-  3. Eat together at the same time with an office buffet, or virtual meetup over food with take out or a home cooked meal.
-  4. Virtual break-room – make a place always open for people to come hang out for a time period, no agenda, just an open zoom or place to meet online.
-  5. Use the Start, Stop, Continue goal method to make personal, team and company improvements. Ask - what will you start doing, what will you stop doing and what will you continue doing.
-  6. Virtual Scavenger Hunt – type up a list of 10 things that people can go hunt for in their homes then share. First people to get all 10 items (and show them) wins!
-  7. Virtual Show and Tell – as everyone to pick up something that is near by them and have them tell a story about it.
-  8. Virtual Dance Party – play music, dress comfy and dance together for 3 minutes. Dancing can be done at anytime and any place to up the energy.
-  9. Getting to Know You – have everyone take the same Personality test before your event and then gather to share what you learned.
-  10. Guess the Baby! – Great ice breaker that makes everyone smile. Assign a moderator to gather pictures of the team members or attendees as babies, post the pictures on the virtual meeting screen and have the participants guess who.
